Noice, chairman of the Department of Natural Science at Moorhead State College, will be installed as president of the Minnesota Academy of Science during an annual meeting May 7 and 8 at Gustavus Adolphus College, St. Peter. He will succeed Dr. Elving Anderson of the University of Minnesota.

Dr. Noice, who was elected to the board of directors of the Minnesota Academy of Science in 1962, is a native of Lisbon, North Dakota, and received his bachelor's degree in biology and chemistry and his master's degree in biology at North Dakota State University. In 1955, working under a scholarship at the University of London, he took his Ph. D. in cell physiology.

He joined the faculty at Moorhead State College in the fall of 1959, after serving four years at Concordia College in Moorhead, and he has been chairman of the natural science department since 1962.

He has served as a member of the National Science Foundation's evaluation board, and was chosen for post-doctoral study on radiation biology under an Atomic Energy Commission program at the University of Washington.

Several Moorhead State College faculty members will participate with Dr. Noice in the 33rd annual meeting of the 1200-member Minnesota Academy of Science at St. Peter.

Dr. Robert Tolbert, Associate Professor of Biology, will be chairman of the Botany section meeting to be held at Nobel Hall on Saturday, May 8. MSC Spring Songfest Staged This Weekend

Ed Schwartz and Dick Nagel will serve as Masters of Ceremonies for the annual Spring Songfest sponsored by Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity. The songfest will be staged in Weld Hall Auditorium on the campus of Moorhead State College Friday and Saturday, (tonight and tomorrow night), May 7 and 8. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m.

Tickets have been on sale the past week and will be sold at the door prior to each performance. Prices are $1 for adults and 50 cents for children under 12 years of age.

This year's production, consisting of acts from seven campus organizations, will portray popular "Televisions." As the name implies, the acts will be take-offs on various television themes. They will feature such classics as the Owl Fraternity in the "Hallmark Hall of Fame, starring Macbeth the Knife," and the Delta Zeta Sorority production of "Merry Pason."

Over 150 students are expected to participate in the show, according to General Chairman Roger Engelson. Also featured again this year will be "The Greenbriars" and John Rotella, who will provide entertainment between acts.

Two well-known Fargo-Moorhead personalities will judge the acts each night. Wayne Lubenow and Jerry Ruff of the Fargo Forum, Miss Marcene Morgan of the Bill Weaver Show of KTHI-TV and Clair Haugen of the Department of Speech and Drama at Concordia College will serve as judges.

Following the Saturday night presentations, the judges' results will be tabulated and trophies will be awarded to the first, second and third place winning acts. Recently crowned Sigma Tau Gamma Sweetheart, Miss Judy Kotte, will present the awards.

Assisting Engelson in the production are Jeff Hagen, publicity; Mike Johnson, tickets; Rick Kjos, judges; Ed Schwartz, director of choreography and Bob Gerke, general advisor.

Wadena Band, Choir Here For Convo Wed.

Members of the Wadena High School Band and Choir will present concerts here next Wednesday, May 12 during a convocation scheduled at 10 a.m. in the Campus School Gymnasium.

Noted Linguist And Author

Dr. Pei To Speak At Honors Convo May 20

Students who have achieved high academic records during the year will be honored at a special Honors Convocation scheduled Thursday, May 20 at 8:15 p.m. in Weld Hall auditorium. An address will be given by Dr. Mario Pei, professor of romance languages at Columbia University.

Dr. Pei, who has been decried as "one of the greatest linguists in the world", will speak on the topic, "The World's Chief Languages". He has a knowledge of many of the world's 2,796 languages, and among his many books is The Story of Language, which was a Book-of-the-Month Club selection.

Special honors will be awarded this year to students with averages of 3.75 and above; honors will be given to those with 3.50 to 3.74, and honorable mention to those with averages of 3.25 to 3.49. In past years students with averages of 3.0 to 3.24 were included in the program. Because of the increasing number of students, this group will receive letters of communication this year but will not participate in the ceremony.

To be eligible for honors citation, students must be registered fulltime, and must have attended Moorhead State College a minimum of two quarters, one quarter of which was during the current year.

Special invitation for the honors convocation and a reception to follow will be sent to relatives of the honor students and to superintendents of high schools where they received their secondary education. Everett Warren, instructor of mathematics, is chairman of the honors convocation committee.

A list of the students who will be honored will be found on page 6.

Ground Breaking Ceremonies Slated For New MSC Fine Arts Building

Ground breaking ceremonies for the long awaited Moorhead State College Fine Arts Building will be held on Wednesday, May 12 following an all-college convocation.

MSC President John J. Neumaier, members of the faculty and state and civic officials will be present to turn over the initial earth. Students and friends of the college are also encouraged to attend the ground breaking for the new addition to the college.

A completion date of August, 1966, has been set for the $1.52 million dollar structure which will house the departments of music, art and speech-theatre. The legislature is also giving consideration to a supplementary appropriation of $100,000 for the purchase of moveable equipment in the new building.

According to Administrative Dean Earl Herring, the construction contracts were higher than estimated, requiring $100,000 of the equipment budget money to be used for the unexpected increased expense in construction.

Construction of the new building will begin immediately with preparation of the grounds already underway. The structure has been designed as a joint venture of Foss, Engelstad and Foss, of Moorhead, and Stegner, Hendrickson and McNutt of Brainerd. According to preliminary plans, the building will house a main auditorium with a seating capacity of 900. The upholstered chairs will be featured in a continental seating arrangement unique to this area. There will be no center aisle. The auditorium will have three entrances from lobbies on the sides.

The building will also contain offices for the instructors in the music, art and speech departments along with several classrooms, practice rooms and laboratories.

A plea for an appropriation of $33,000 was made to the State Senate Finance Committee on April 22. This money would be used for the purchase of a "1620" electronic computer for educational purposes and research at MSC.

Dean Herring stressed that this machine, which is being offered for sale by the University of North Dakota is far from obsolete and that when new four years ago was worth $80,000.

MSC officials have also made a plea that all of the original $1,044,000 estimate be given for the new classroom building. The Building Commission had recommended an appropriation of $700,000 but college officials believe that this amount would result in a shortage of classroom space and faculty offices due to rapidly increasing enrollment. The building will house the departments of Business, Mathematics, Geography-Geology and Philosophy.

Carlton Professor Visits Math Department

The Mathematical Association of America, with the financial support of the National Science Foundation, sponsored a visit by Dr. Frank Wolf, Associate Professor of Mathematics at Carleton College, to Moorhead State College last week. This visit, part of a nationwide program of visiting lecturers, had a four-fold purpose, according to Miss Marion Smith, Chairman of MSC's Mathematics Department. It was held to strengthen and stimulate the mathematics programs, to provide the mathematics staff and mathematics majors with an opportunity for personal contact with productive and creative mathematicians, to aid in the motivation of able college students to consider careers in mathematics and the teaching of mathematics and to strengthen ties between undergraduate colleges and graduate schools.

Professor Wolf is a graduate of Washington University in St. Louis where he earned the B.S. and M.A. degrees. Work for his Ph. D. degree was done at the University of Minnesota. A member of the faculty at Carleton College since 1952, his research interests are in game theory, the foundations of mathematics and teacher education. He is the author of Elements of Probability and Statistics.

Jane M. Jorschumb, Moorhead State College sophomore, is the winner of a Mathematical Achievement Award presented by the Chemical Rubber Company of Cleveland, Ohio. The award, consisting of a copy of the company's Twelfth Edition of Standard Mathematical Tables, is made annually to the highest ranking student in the first year sequence of analytics and calculus.

Rodekuhr Receives Scholarship In Political Science

Darrell Rodekuhr, a junior at Moorhead State College, has been named the recipient of the Samuel Rothstein Scholarship Award in the field of Political Science.

The scholarship is awarded annually in the amount of $100 during the fall quarter. It is given to a junior with a minimum of 24 hours in Political Science and highest GPA in the field.

Requirements and applications for the scholarship were reviewed by the instructors of the Department of Political Science and Economics on April 21.

Rodekuhr is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer R. Rodekuhr of Walker, Minnesota.

Special Education Traineeships Available

Dr. Martin Tonn, Director of Special Education at Moorhead State College announced that five traineeships will be available and awarded at Moorhead State College. The traineeships will be worth $1,600 plus tuition and fees. To be eligible a student must be of senior standing by September 1965 and be enrolled in a course of study leading to certification in teaching the mentally retarded.

Applications may be obtained from Dr. Tonn at Moorhead State College and must be returned by June 1, 1965. A scholarship committee composed of Moorhead State College faculty members will make the final selection.

Activities Fee Increase? Senate "IDEA" Series

by Viki Littlefield
Senator-at-Large

During the past four weeks the budget committee and the Student Senate have been having a difficult time working out an adequate budget, the primary problem being finding enough funds to pay for the requested programs.

Basically, the budget requests by the various departments were realistically proposed. The arguments supporting these requests appeared to be logically and reasonably thought out. But because of the lack of funds, many of these worthwhile programs had to be cut financially.

One way of solving the problem seems to be the raising of the present $10 quarterly fee from $1 to $5 a quarter, depending upon the apparent need. This would mean an increase of between $11 and $16 per quarter.

The Senate would like a reaction from the student body on the question in order to determine what its position on this question might be. If you have an opinion, either for or against this increase, write a response to the Senate or to the Mystic. This question affects every student on campus. Think it over. Let your feelings be known.

Letter to the Editor

To The Editor:

As students at Moorhead State College, we are receiving a relatively good classroom education. But I believe a college education should extend beyond the classroom. A student's education must come not only from the text book but from contact with cultural subjects and every aspect of life. Students need discussions on intellectual and controversial subjects and they must have the time to engage in them.

A good college or university is partly judged by the amount of intellectual activity on campus and a good student is judged by the degree of interest he shows in those activities and in his school work. The intellect and controversy are essential to a good education because they bring issues into proper focus. In order for a controversy to exist there must be an exchange of ideas and conversely, if no exchange of ideas exists, there most likely will not be any controversy.

Perhaps more students would take part in extra-curricular activities if they had more time. I feel that most classes require too much outside work, thus leaving little time for the student to develop and fulfill his own individual needs and ideas. The teachers, instead of demanding excessive homework from the student, could encourage interest in current events.

As I have already stated, our education is fairly good. It could be better. I realize that a large share of the fault in our education lies with the student. I also realize that our mainly rural society is not conducive to an intellectual atmosphere. But more than this, I realize that in order for an education to be a good one it must be based on thinking, an exchange of ideas, and an awareness, of the world around us.

Advancement Noted in Graduate Program

Eleven Students Qualify As Master's Candidates

Eleven candidates for the Master of Science in Education Degree will be presented at MSC this spring, according to Dr. Byron D. Murray, Director of Graduate Studies. The candidates have completed their required 45 credit hours of graduate course work and their independent studies, and they have either completed or are preparing for their oral examinations.

The candidates represent five fields of study, predominantly the health, physical education and recreation field. Dr. Murray stated that it is rather unusual to have such a comparatively large number in that field but attributed it to no reason other than that it "just happened that way."

The candidates, their fields, and their independent study titles are:

Health, Physical Education and Recreation: Paula B. Bauck, "A Survey of the Status of Family Life Education Relative to Selected Subjects at Moorhead, Minn., Senior High School"; Ross S. Fortier, "A Study of the Effects of Warm-Up Upon Jump Shooting in Basketball"; Jack G. Goodman, "The 16 P.F. Personality Test as an Aid in the Selection of Camp Counselors for the Physically Handicapped"; Frank J. Leidenfrost, "A Survey to Determine the Strengths and Weaknesses of the Course Work for Physical Education Majors Graduated from Moorhead State College During the Years 1958-64"; John E. Thompson, "A Study of the Adapted Physical Education Programs in the Secondary Schools in the Fargo-Moorhead Systems."

Elementary Education: Thelma I. Berge, "The Effect of a Daily Written Quiz on Arithmetic Achievement in a Fifth Grade."

Elementary and Special Education: Barbara P. Heckman, "A Comparative Study of Two Groups of Educable Mentally Retarded Children Under Two Different Methods of Reading"; Ruth S. Hoglund, "An Integrated Program for Visually Handicapped Children in the Washington Elementary School, Fargo, North Dakota."

Elementary and Reading: Avis M. Knudsen, "A Survey of a Controlled Experiment Comparing the Programmed Reading Method with a Conventional Reading Program at the First Grade Level"; Bernice G. Sather, "A Survey of the Reading Status of Slow Learning Fifth Grade Children in District #152, Moorhead, Minn., 1963-64."

English: Howard D. Peet, "Evolution of a Man Named Fred" (a biographical study of Frederick Manfred).

At present, many of the candidates are teachers in Fargo, Moorhead, or nearby. Some have been long familiar to MSC. For example, Mrs. Ruth Hoglund is a graduate of the Campus School and MSC. After receiving her Master's degree, she will teach this summer under another MSC graduate, Dr. Maynard Reynolds, who is director of special education at the University of Minnesota. Ross Fortier has been serving as graduate assistant and as an assistant coach at MSC, as has Frank Leidenfrost. Ross was a star athlete at NDSU and Frank at MSC.

The oral examinations are the candidates' main concern now. The first was given April 26, and the last is scheduled for May 21. Each candidate must appear before a committee composed of his adviser as chairman, a major field representative, an at-large or related field representative, and a professional education representative, to answer questions based mainly on his independent study. Though other faculty members may attend, the committee ordinarily does most of the questioning, and it is the committee who makes the final decision on the candidate.

Much of the faculty is actively concerned with the graduate program. Dr. Murray pointed out that 24 faculty members are now serving on one or more oral examining committees. Last year 72 faculty members, or 55% of the total staff, taught at least one graduate course, or served as a graduate adviser or an examining committee member.

The number of graduate students enrolled is constantly increasing. Last fall MSC enrolled 173 graduate students, 36 of whom were full-time. MSC receives its greatest number of graduate students during the summer, however. Last summer there were 249 graduates in the first summer session, 145 in the second.

The increasing graduate enrollment has led to considerations for improving the graduate program. This year some major revisions were made in the M.S. in Ed. program, and there has been talk of organizing an M.A. program also.

In a talk to the faculty senate last December, Dr. Murray pointed out that a four-year curriculum is no longer enough for a large proportion of graduates. Teacher preparation will call for five years of work, and it has been stressed that a greater number of Ph. D.'s are also needed. Doctorate programs will have to be developed in other schools besides the large universities. In February of 1965, it was reported that about 60% of college freshmen expect to do graduate work; 25% say they intend to work for a doctorate.

The possibility of a more complete and advanced graduate program will have to be faced sooner or later. Dr. Murray agreed that MSC is "moving with the trend of events toward participation, in one form or another, of more advanced and sophisticated curriculum."

Dr. Murray, a graduate of the University of Missouri and Northwest Missouri State College, received his Ph. D. from the State University of Iowa. He has been a member of the English Department at MSC since 1926, has served as chairman of the department, and was appointed Director of Graduate Studies in 1957.

Students Show Works In Annual Art Exhibit

by Bob Larsen

The "biggest and best" art exhibit of the year is going up this week on third floor MacLean Art Center, with the exhibition of works by the students of Moorhead State College.

There have been displays this year of painting worth thousands of dollars by world famous artists who have made historically significant developments in art; so you ask, "what more can the art department offer?"

During the past two and one half quarters, the art students have been working and studying diligently to produce some of the most perceptive work ever displayed in a student show.

It is quite apparent that the display is the "biggest and best" of the year because there are more contributing artists, it takes up more floor space, and there is more student interest in this display than in any of its predecessors.

This is a quality show. All works were judged and selected by the art department faculty. All senior art students will be represented.

The areas represented include sculpture, watercolor, oil painting, pottery, drawing, and printmaking. The printmaking field is new at MSC this year and has created much enthusiasm in the department. Techniques in silk screen, etching, woodcut, linoleum block and collagraph will be shown.

Expanded ROTC Program Allows MSC Participation

The Professors of Military Science and Aerospace Studies at North Dakota State University announced recently even broader eligibility zones for college students seeking Army or Air Force commissions through the new two-year ROTC programs.

Specifically, the Army and Air Force programs provide an opportunity for students, having two academic years remaining, to count within those two years, both undergraduated and graduate work. Students at Moorhead State College with two years remaining can still apply for participation in the NDSU ROTC programs. Applications must be submitted to the PMS prior to May 20 or to the PAS prior to May 28.

Prior to final acceptance in either the Army or Air Force program, applicants must complete successfully a six-week training period. Both services have vacancies for their second period of training. Army training will be at Fort Knox, Kentucky, beginning June 21, while Air Force training will be conducted at either Keesler AFB, Biloxi, Mississippi or Maxwell AFB, Montgomery, Alabama, beginning August 1.

U. of M. President Wilson To Appear On KFME-TV

May 13, at 9:40 p.m., KFME/Channel 13 will present O. Meredith Wilson, President of the University of Minnesota, in a special CONVERSATION WITH PRESIDENT WILSON. President Wilson is interviewed by Mr. Robert Boyle of the University's Department of Radio and Television. His principal topic will be the current crisis in higher education today.

President Wilson gives particular attention to the problem of growing enrollments, a problem which should be of particular interest to Fargo-Moorhead area residents, since two of the area's institutions of higher learning have recently been forced to limit enrollments, Moorhead State College and the University of North Dakota. President Wilson points out that projections of the numbers of 18-year-olds in 1975 indicates that the problem will be with us for a good many years to come.

He will also discuss the role of the University of Minnesota, state colleges, the junior colleges and the private colleges in meeting this crisis of higher education. He comments on the effects of enrollment growth on admission policies and the need for good faculty.

Don't miss this discussion of a topic vital to everyone interested in the welfare of this nation. See A CONVERSATION WITH PRESIDENT WILSON on KFME/Channel 13, Thursday, May 13, at 9:40 p.m.

Dragon's Slim Title Hopes At Stake Against Beavers

Moorhead State's fleeting chances for a Northern Intercollegiate Conference baseball crown, severely damaged last weekend with a pair of losses to Winona State and psychologically impaired with a doubleheader defeat to Mayville Tuesday, will be on the line this weekend as MSC meets Bemidji State in a three-game series in the land of the pines and lumberjacks.

M-State meets Bemidji Friday afternoon and twice in a pair of seven-inning contests Saturday afternoon, needing a three-game sweep to stay in contention for loop honors.

Coach Loel Frederickson's nine will bring an overall mark of 7-6 into this weekend's action and a 3-3 mark in the NIC. Conference favorite St. Cloud State has conference mark of 3-0 while darkhorse Winona, invested with a raft of talented hitters, is 2-1.

Bemidji, coached by Bob Montebello, is 2-7 overall with a mark of 1-5 in conference contests, losing three to 'Cloud and two to Mankato.

The Beavers will use Dan Somrock of Ely in the opener while Dan Bergan will start one of Saturday's contests. Other hurlers Montebello can count on are Gerry Krohn (New Prague) and Gary Himango (Esko).

The rest of the Beaver lineup will look like this: 1B—Randy Burcar, 2B—Tim Bischoff, 3B—Dick Williams, SS—Lary Mahlman, LF—Steve Eck, CF—Allan Kostynyk, RF—Duane Peterson, C—Rollie Johnson or Arnie Stull. Mahlman and Williams are the only two regulars hitting over .300.

Montebello feels Bemidji must improve on its defense to beat MSC. "If we can spruce up our fielding and throwing, we'll be able to come through against the Dragons," Montebello commented.

Frederickson will likely use the starting lineup against the home-standing Beavers: 1B—Al Berglund (Bloomington), 2B—Pat Gallagher (Benson), SS—Cactus Warner (Halstad), 3B—Dennis Seymour (Bloomington), 1F—Jerry Hegna (Granite Falls), CF—Joe Boche (Moorhead), RF—Doug Braaten (Hancock), C—Jerry Jacobson (Barrett).

Pitching nominations will go to left-handed Jerry Barney (Clara City), Dick Harlow (Bertha), Doug Biss (Detroit Lakes), Frank Wagner (Camden, N.J.), Dick and Curt Walvatne (Underwood) and Rog Olson (Battle Lake).

In last weekend's loop series against Winona State, the Dragon batting power was evident with 37 hits in three games and 25 runs but Winona batters combed the MSC staff for 31 hits and 29 runs.

In the opening contest, Moorhead was coasting along with a 4-0 lead till the fifth when Winona slammed Dragon starter Barney. Relievers Harlow and Curt Walvatne could not put out the Winona fire as Moorhead lost 17-7. Braaten and Hegna chipped in with three hits each with Hegna smashing his first home run of the year. MSC nemesis Davis Usgaard slammed three hits, including a double and a triple and accounted for four runs-batted-in.

Winona's Warriors reached Moorhead starter Wagner for four runs in the first inning and went on to win the second contest 9-6 Saturday afternoon. Once again it was Usgaard who did the damage, with a double for three runs. Dean Bailey rocked Wagner for a first-inning bases-loaded triple. Boche led the Dragon batting attack with three hits.

In the final contest, Moorhead backed Barney's fine pitching with 14 hits to win 12-3. Barney and Seymour each ripped three hits, with Barney and Warner, who homered, driving in three each.

Against Mayville State, fine pitching and airtight defense helped the Comets blank Moorhead twice, 3-0 and 8-0. In the first affair, Don Bowyer and Harlow locked in a shut-out till the bottom of the sixth when the Comets rapped Harlow for five consecutive hits.

MSC loaded the bases in the opening inning but couldn't score. Warner and Braaten got the only two hits for Moorhead State.

In the nightcap, the Comets disposed of Dragon hurler Rog Olson quickly and left-hander Bruce Mikkelsen subdued MSC on three hits. Braaten, Hegna and Gallagher got the only hits.

Thinclads Entered In Two Weekend Affairs

Spring athletics continued at full speed last week with all facets of athletics competing. The track and field squad under the coaching talents of Al Holmes participated with eight other colleges in the Bison-Jaycee meet held at North Dakota State University last Saturday.

The Moorhead State golf team traveled to Alexandria last weekend for the NAIA qualifying round. The tennis team has also been active during the past week.

Tony Jones, Moorhead State fleet footed trackster from Trinidad, captured two first place finishes in Saturday's track meet, the only two that Moorhead gained, as they finished seventh in a field of nine teams.

St. Cloud State won the meet with 60 points, the University of North Dakota placed second with 57 and one half points, and NDSU gained third place with 53 and one half points.

Minot State scored 22 points in capturing fourth place, Mayville State and Dickinson tied for fifth and sixth with 20 points apiece, Moorhead had 15 points for seventh place, Concordia totaled 14 points, and Northern State of Aberdeen had six points.

Jones, in gaining the two first place finishes for the Dragons, tied one meet record and broke another. He legged the 100-yard dash in a time of 9.8 seconds to tie the record set by Conrad Jones of UND in 1956. Later Jones set another record when he raced the 220 yard dash in 21.5 seconds.

The Dragons have a big schedule awaiting them during the next week with the Inter-City, postponed from last Tuesday, rescheduled for next Tuesday at Concordia. Today the Dragons will compete in the Beaver relays at Bemidji, and on Saturday they travel to St. Paul for the MacLaster Invitational.

Next Thursday MSC will again travel to Bemidji for the Bemidji

Triangular. Along with the Dragons and the Beavers will be the Huskies from St. Cloud.

Bill Garland's band of racketeers competed in the Mayville quadrangular last Tuesday and have two more matches coming up. On Thursday of this week the Dragons traveled to UND for a match, but no results were available at press time. On Saturday the Dragons square off with a host of schools at the Aberdeen Invitational at Northern State College in Aberdeen, South Dakota.

At Mayville on Tuesday the Dragons did fairly well, finishing in a tie for second place with four points. Mayville won the match with seven points. Minot State was tied with MSC with four points, and Wahpeton Science scored one.

The brightest spot in the Dragon output was a pair of freshmen, Roger Wagner and Gene Miller who led Moorhead to a first place finish in the doubles competition. The Dragons doubles team beat Wahpeton 6-1 and 6-1 while Minot clipped Mayville 6-3 and 6-3 after losing the opener 6-4. In the championship round the Dragons won 6-4 and 6-0.

In singles competition Frank Mousley and Kern Olson both lost in the first round, but both also managed to come back and win in consolation competition. Mousley lost two straight to Dale Johnson of Mayville and then defeated Manalovitz in the consolation bracket. Olson, after losing to Coheen of Mayville in the first round defeated Duane Wilness of Wahpeton for consolation honors.

The MSC linksters traveled to Alexandria for the NAIA qualifying round last weekend, but failed to make a single qualification.

Only five individuals in the meet qualified to continue on in national competition. Macalaster College of St. Paul won first place in the team competition.

Today and tomorrow the golf team will compete with Northern State College of Aberdeen at the Aberdeen Country Club in Aberdeen, South Dakota.

Dragon Along

By Larry Scott, Sports Editor

According to Moorhead State College athletic director Larry MacLeod, the format for the Red River Valley Basketball Classic has been changed. The tournament, set for December 29 and 30, 1965, will include two separate tournaments, one for high school teams and the other for college teams.

The four-team high school field will include Moorhead, Fargo North, Fergus Falls and Grand Forks Central. The four college teams include host Moorhead State, Bemidji State, Concordia and Valley City State.

The University of North Dakota Sioux captured the 1964 title with Moorhead placing third.

Ted Brill, who was starting first-baseman for the Dragon baseball nine at the season's outset, has been forced to leave the squad, due to personal reasons. Brill is counted on for extensive football duty this fall as a linebacker for coach Dwaine Hoberg's gridgers.

Cactus Warner, regular shortstop and basketball captain for the Dragons, picked off the intramural badminton tournament held recently, along with Art Griffiths.

Dale Champ, former Dragon athlete who coached at East Chain last year, is reportedly headed for a new coaching job at Lake Crystal.

Jerry Hegna is the leading hitter thus far on the baseball varsity with 16 hits in 44 trips for a bat mark of .364. Warner is hitting .350 on 14 hits in 40 at bats. Dick Harlow and Doug Biss lead the pitching squad with earned-run averages of 3.06, both having thrown 17 2/3 innings thus far.

Tony Jones's mark of 9.8 in the 100-yard dash at NDSU last weekend broke the Dragon record of: 10.0 set by Basil Sulaiman back in 1961.

MSC Grid Practices Start Third Week

With spring football practice at Moorhead State College only a week old, coach Dwaine Hoberg has a big problem confronting him. Namely, to find three capable backfield cohorts for Lee Fawbush, the only returning regular.

Fawbush, a transfer from Wisconsin University, moved out veteran Kevin Wimmer last fall midway through the season and barring injuries, should comfortably ward off any challengers for his starting offensive berth. A bone-crushing tackler, Fawbush is a mainstay in the secondary defense.

Gone from last year's backfield are Jerry Hegna, fullback, and halves Steve Duginski and Dick Schutte. Also missing are utility backs Jim Berg, a top-notch defensive performer, and Charles Krumwiede.

Interior linemen missing will include Wayne "Toro" Theusch, voted Moorhead State's Most Valuable Player at the season's close, Dennis Kapets, and academic casualties Dennis Hogan of St. Paul and Neal Pipe of Corning, N.Y.

Also missing from last year's unit is Dennis Bertek, the somber and quiet Dragon junior whose hard-nosed defensive talents at end helped form a sound foundation for Moorhead State's rockbed defense. Bertek, an engineering major, transferred to North Dakota State University but will be ineligible to play for the Bison this fall.

Hoberg will try and rebuild a unit that finished 4-4 on the season last fall, but made a desperate chase for the Northern Intercollegiate Conference title, finishing second with a 4-1 record.

According to national sanction, MSC is allowed only 15 spring practices, set up with three a week. The spring drills will commence with an intra-squad affair, replacing the Alumni-Varsity affair of the past few seasons.

480,000 Meals Per Year

Food Service Is Big Operation

Story by Mike Grieve
Photography by Roger Swenson

How would you like to operate a kitchen that serves about 430,000 meals annually to a group of students who can count among their accomplishments the wolfing down of 680 loaves of bread per week and the yearly theft of 1200 knives?

This is the job of Clint Stacy, cafeteria manager at MSC for Slater Food Services, a Division of Automatic Retailers of America.

The role of the cafeteria on Campus and in the community is a large one.

According to Stacy, the 23 full time employees and the part time student workers have a total annual payroll of $90,000. Included in this sum is $16,000 which is paid to approximately 60 students. Another 30 students work for their meals.

Each year, $165,000 is spent in wholesale food purchases by the company and another $35,000 is used buying soap, napkins and replacing china and small equipment. Since Slater is a profit making company, it receives no government surplus.

Stacy said that students living on campus at MSC are paying less for their food service than any other state school in Minnesota. Students' fees for meals are $405 per year but just $298 of this amount is turned over to the Slater company. The building, Kise Commons, is owned by the state and the remaining $107 is used by them for maintenance and equipment replacement in the cafeteria.

During the fall and winter quarters of 1965 approximately 2100 meals per day were served. Under these circumstances food ordering must be done on a gigantic scale. A sample week in January saw the consumption of 700 pounds of roast beef, 523 pounds of steak, more than a half ton of potatoes, 680 loaves of bread, 350 dozen assorted dinner rolls, 14 cases of cereal and 780 gallons of milk. During the entire school year, students will drink an estimated 26,500 gallons of milk. About enough to raise the Red River to flood stage!

According to assistant manager Henry Singer, the food service caters to about 580 events per year including teas, banquets and receptions.

The Snack Bar, also located in the building is a favorite meeting place of students. It makes about 700 sales per day and is particularly busy during summer sessions when most students are living off campus.

In a business of this size there is certain to be some dissatisfaction among the customers. This is particularly evident among students who are spending their first year away from home. A Food Committee, appointed by the president of the college, Dr. John J. Neumaier, deals with complaints and service for students. The Committee's chairman, Miss Dillon, urges that any grievances be brought to that group's attention.

A food preference survey was taken during the winter quarter and the results have been helpful to all concerned.

Foreign foods such as chicken tetrizzini and veal scallopine apparently have little appeal for the students.

The "per cent like" of other dishes produced few surprising results. In choices at breakfast, stewed prunes received a lowly 39%, orange juice polled high with 96% and grits were endorsed by a mere 18% of the students; probably only because of their name.

For lunch and dinner, beef led the polls with 98%, closely followed by turkey 97%, and hamburgers 96%. Lasagna and stuffed green peppers trailed far behind with 37% and 19% respectively.

One of the standards of American life — apple pie — was soundly voted in by 95% of those in the survey.

At the bottom of the survey card was a space for suggestions. These comments were useful, complimentary and sometimes humorous.

"Silverware sometimes isn't clean."

"Generally, I think the food served at MSC is very good."

"Use a different kind of catsup, it is too strong."

"The singer and organ the night of Halloween were great. Should do it more often if possible. It creates a nice atmosphere."

"When serving bananas it would be appreciated if they were bigger instead of the tiny ones."

"I have yet to see a better manager than Mr. Stacy, ARA is very lucky to have such a man and so is MSC . . ."

"Need more pancakes for the morning meal, two is not enough for a growing boy like me."

"I love beautiful waitresses."

"Quit playing that stupid music, spend the money on food."

"You're doing very well, keep up the good work."

According to Stacy, efforts are being made to keep everyone satisfied.

He added that the cafeteria loses about 1200 knives per year, and speculates that most of these are probably being used to furnish off campus apartments. This represents a loss of $455 and results in food being taken from the students' mouths. The company must show a profit, the only way is to cut down on other expenses. In short, the students are taking these knives and cutting their own throats.

Automatic Retailers of America has served MSC for the past eight years. The organization is nationwide. It supplies food to 360 schools and colleges, 310 hospitals and 265 industries across the United States.

Stacy has been with ARA for five years. He was stationed at Mankato, Beloit College in Wisconsin and at St. Cloud State before coming to Moorhead State in January, 1962, as manager.

Henry Singer, Stacy's assistant was previously employed by the company as head cook at MSC. Following his promotion, Rolland Smith was named head cook and is still employed in that capacity.

Managers Plan Weekly Menu

Clint Stacy, Cafeteria Manager for Slater Food Services, and Henry Singer, Jr., Assistant Manager, go over the proposed menu for a week in May.

Bakers' Day Starts At 3 a.m.

Kise Commons Bakers, Barney Lord and Blanche Christianson, prepare brownies for evening dessert. Their work day begins at 3 a.m., long before the first students arrive for their daily sustenance.

Popular Snack Bar Scene

Students take advantage of free coffee re-fills in the Kise Commons snack bar. The snack bar offers a menu of lunches and short orders in its service to off-campus students.

Kise Commons, which houses the cafeteria and snack bar, was erected in 1962 at a cost of $475,000. An additional dining area is scheduled for construction this year with an approximate cost set at $317,000. The Commons is named for Dr. Joseph Kise, Dean Emeritus of Moorhead State College.

Cooks Prepare Food Daily for 2,100 meals

Cooks Myrtle O'Keefe and Rollie Smith are part of a total task force of 23 full-time Slater employees. They are shown here preparing the day's fare.

Students Select Plates From Serving line

Hungry MSC students choose between hot and cold plate lunches. An average of 2,100 meals are served daily in the cafeteria.
